Help Farmworkers Stay Safe & Healthy

Although farmworkers are designated “essential workers”, they are often left behind when it comes to health protections and economic relief. To help meet critical needs in this pandemic, AFSC distributed food, personal protective equipment, and health information to farmworkers in Homestead, FL. We also partnered with the state health dept. to bring mobile clinics to farmworker housing villages to provide free COVID-19 testing-reaching more than 2,000 farmworkers.

Your support for AFSC has helped us show how much is possible with the right kind of investment, grounded in respect for human rights and dignity. Thank you for supporting our work with communities around the world. For more information, visit: AFSC.org Their newsletter is on the bulletin board.
